Portable Electric Heating Keeps Catwalk Warm

All Seasons Hire was recently called on to provide Portable Heating for a prestigious London Fashion Show. The Show was held in a large exhibition hall where the standard heating system was not man enough to keep the Models and viewing audience warm.

All Seasons Hire Installed twenty two 18kW Electric Fan Heaters; The Heaters were concealed into the fashion show design so that the only impact was Comfortable Controllable Temporary Heating. The client specifically requested that the Heating was provided using low noise fume free Electric Heaters, capable of being safely concealed within the stage design. All Seasons Hire was pleased to assist in the design and installation. All seasons Hire provides Air Conditioning, Refrigeration and Heating Solutions for all types of business environments including small medium and large Events and Exhibitions
