Sports and All

All Seasons Hire are busy keeping "sports goers" warm by providing Portable Oil Fired Indirect Heating for several corporate events. Large sporting events including England Rugby at Twickenham and the prestigious Cheltenham Festival Race Meeting often extend their hospitality by installing large corporate marquees. All Seasons Hire recently installed Indirect Gas Fired Heaters for the Six Nations Rugby at Twickenham and are now preparing for the Heating Installation at Cheltenham.

Andrew Hamilton is delighted to work with the event organisers on these large and important events; "We pride ourselves on delivering the kind of service expected during these time critical events, we know exactly what is needed, we have a great deal of experience, Heating and Cooling Marquees is a part of what we do best!" All Seasons Hire have an extensive range of Heaters for Hire including Indirect Oil Fired and large Mobile Boilers; for cooling they also have an extensive range of Portable Air Conditioning units ranging from 14000BTU to 35000BTU all capable of running on single phase power. For larger events their Portable Chiller and Air Handling Units can Air Condition the largest marquees and events. Andrew Hamilton stated; "We not only cool people down or keep them warm, we also offer for hire a complete range of Refrigeration units and Portable Cold Rooms specifically for event organisers. These Commercial Refrigeration units can be hired by the day; they are perfect for additional food storage, displaying food or food preparation"
